MAKING YOUR PLANS:

These price surveys are only the barest of guides. It is imperative that you make arrangements with the funeral home of your choice. A wise person will talk with several establishments. They expect that of you. Obviously, costs are not the only factor. When the need comes, it is important that your family have not only your plans to guide them, but a business to work with that will be supportive. Making pre-arrangements will provide for this. Plan ahead!
