The 7th Annual ASTA National Conference Santa Clara, California February 17-20, 2010

February is a perfect time to come to California, not only for the sunny weather but for the amazing line-up at the conference. Educators, performers, students— there is a lot for everyone!

- Over 185 educational sessions to choose from.
- David Wallace of the Juilliard School will be delivering a keynote address that you don't want to miss.
- Multilevel Master Classes in every instrument—Clinicians to include: Barry Green, Brenda Brenner, Fritz Gearhart, Yizhak Schotten, Don McInnes, Christian Howes, Daniel Levitov, David Moore, Jad Azkoul, and more!
- State of the Art "Strings Only" Exhibit Hall
- Networking Opportunities—What other chance will you have to be in the same place as so many brilliant string musicians and educators?
- Unforgettable Evening Concerts—iPalpiti and the Quartet San Francisco will perform.
- Silent Auction—The silent auction will be open to everyone this year. Don't miss your opportunity to bid on the most magnificent items for such a good cause.
- Student Music Ensembles—Opportunity to listen to several of the best student musicians participating in the National High School Honors Orchestra under the direction of Scott Speck; the National Orchestra Festival; and the Invited Performing Groups.
- Juried Poster Sessions—Research conducted by some of the leading pedagogues in the string profession will be on display.
- Value—No matter how you look at it, ASTA's annual conference is an amazing value. Sign up for the early-bird rate of just $255!
- Plus, fun day trips are close by—San Francisco, San José & more!

The ASTA Conference will leave you feeling energized and inspired. You will gain new tools to help you move forward in your career and refreshers to implement immediately!
So plan now to meet us in California in February!
