

deanna zandt

deannaz@earthlink.net

<http://www.deannazandt.com/>

(please email me for real world contact info)

former nine-to-five jobs:

Manager, Information Systems

T-Systems North America Inc. / Deutsche Telekom

October 2001 – March 2003

- database and intranet monkey
- PowerPoint and reporting guru (corporate cheerleading)
- explain to the Americans why the Germans are the way they are most of the time

Knowledge Sorceress

A whole lotta people

October 2001 – present

- print + web design for clients including investment bankers, human resources consultants, restaurants, indie musicians and films
- advertising strategy advice
- general client coddling

Director, Interactive Services

Toolbox (now Munn-Rabôt)

October 1999 – October 2001

- manage all interactive projects
- administer IT systems
- argue and then go drink with creative director

Pre-1999 Real Life Experience includes:

- financial assistant for Deutsche Telekom
- resident assistant at SUNY-Albany
- housing manager for the New York Giants

other things I can do and like to do:

skills

- Flash MX, Photoshop 7.0, Illustrator 10.0, Dreamweaver MX
- HTML, JavaScript, PERL, dHTML
- MSOffice, MS Project, FileMaker Pro 6, Visio Professional
- PC-specialized; Mac-fluent
- Advanced networking and connectivity knowledge
- Fluency in German; proficiency in Spanish and French; basic Japanese
- Excellent interpersonal and managerial skills; public speaking skills are top-notch
- Can act as translator between users and web professionals
- Ability to steer through any city in the world using mutant navigation powers

interests

New York City history; global and local progressive activism; European travel; works by Milan Kundera, Douglas Adams, George Lakoff; Charles Bukowski; poetry; yoga; biking.

what I really love to do:

Election 2004 Activities

September 2003 - present

- Design, develop and edit the Regime Change Guide (www.regimechangeguide.com)
- Lead Entertainment Group and participate in noRNC Arts group for the noRNC Clearinghouse
- Political Events Coordinator for Federation of East Village Artists / HOWL! Festival

Creative Administrator and Whipmistress

Bowery Poetry Club

June 2003 - present

- do everything that no one else wants to do:
 - manage all communications for the club
- regularly beat people into giving me what I need, including PR, fundraising, web materials
 - beg for money from whoever'll give it
 - help out producing special events

Poetry and Spoken Word Performance

- installations across Lower East Side
- amuse friends with slurred rants at obscene hours of the night and morning
- performances include Bowery Poetry Club, Uptown/Downtown at Makor, art opening for Angel Orensanz, a Raising for Rangzen benefit, "Soapbox!" DVD, and a bunch of other places

Written Word and Independent Film

- published poetry in Dirt, issue 1.1 (www.dirtpress.com)
- published "A Peaceful Answer to 9/11" and "Taking It to the People" with AlterNet (www.alternet.org)
- on-the-fly scriptwriting based on benefits of having very entertaining friends
 - starring as The Ex-Lesbian in an article published by The Onion
 - listening to Mom explain why she doesn't think I should swear as much in my work

Other Miscellany:

- god help me, all the world is a stage
 - wrote first book—The Adventures of Super Fox—at age eight
 - I'll warn you now: I'm a Leo
- acted in various theater productions from ages five to eighteen before getting my honors bachelor's degree in linguistics