

Resurrection Day

words & music ©2006 Elmo Goontz

VERSE 1:

Jesus and twelve men gather for the feast.
To show the fullness of His love, He kneels to wash their feet.
Breaking bread Jesus said these words are fulfilled,
one who shares my bread is an enemy instead,
and when He dipped into the bowl Satan entered Judas soul,
Jesus said, oh He said...

CHORUS 1:

My friends I am betrayed by one of you today,
into the hands of my enemies.
Yet though I go away, I've not led you astray,
I'll not leave you alone, I will show you the way home,
On Resurrection Day.

VERSE 2:

In the garden with the disciples, He says to watch and pray.
Each and every one of His chosen sons would turn their back on Him this day.
In the weight of sorrow, He prays the hour would pass.
Father take this cup from me – yet not my will, yours be done, now the hour has come – at last! Oh, at last – the hour has come!

CHORUS 2:

What is this I am betrayed by a friend's kiss today,
into the hands of my enemies?
In chains I'm led away – your debt I go to pay,
then I'll return to you – oh, believe it's true,
On Resurrection Day.

BRIDGE:

On the cross I'm lifted up – I must drink from this cup, and be laid in the grave – for three days and three nights,
but you'll rejoice again.

VERSE 3:

Eleven are gathered troubled by doubt and fear.
Just then the One, they knew as God's Son,
the One they thought to be dead, stood among them,
and He said... oh, He said... Jesus said...

CHORUS 3:

My friends I was betrayed, but I'm risen this day,
fulfilling the Law, the Prophets and the Psalms!
You are witness to these things, to the world you must bring,
you must bring the Truth; the Truth of Resurrection Day!
You are witness to these things and to the world you must bring,
the Truth of Resurrection Day!

SONG TAG:

He's risen, risen! Fulfilling the Law, the Prophets and the Psalms.
He's risen, risen! The Passover Lamb – the risen Lord.
He's risen, risen! Eternal life He offers to us all.
He's risen, risen! Glory to the Son of God!
