Debugging PHP Inbox Apply label...

★ Larry Lowe <llowe@cyberflyte.com> to Web More options May 26 (7 days ago)

I'm having a hell of a time installing a debugging environment on Mac OS X 10.3.3.

The Russian system does not offer an eval package unless you have already purchased a license, so I've been trying to install ZEND Studio, a client/server side package.

But all kinds of incompatibilities are cropping up and now these guys have me compiling my own version of PHP to try to get the Zend Optimizer to install. We're not yet at the point to deal with the Zend Debugger.

So here's the question I should have asked a while ago:

What is the best debug package for PHP 4.6.3 on Mac OS X 10.3.3 using the standard install Apache 1.3?

What is the list's experience with Zend?

Thanks in Advance.

Larry Lowe
