

CUB SCOUT LEADER DAY SCHOOL

Why are we doing this?

Recent changes in Cub Scout Training have dropped many of the practical aspects of running a Den or Pack meeting. So, we've put together a Quick Reference Course and Guide to help you conduct your meetings. We've included Ceremonies, Crafts, Games, Songs and other things for you to include in your planned meetings.

When: Saturday, October 18, 2008
Gathering - 8:30 - 8:45am
Dismissal ~3:30pm

Where: TBA

Durham, NC

How Much: Course fee is $25. Includes Blue & Gold Lunch Program, Snacks, Craft Materials, Patch, and Cub Scout Leader Day School resource CD.

Sounds Like Fun! Who Should Come?

Plan to come to Cub Scout Leader Day School to jump start your den or pack program for Fall 2008. Register for the position you will have then.

Cub Scout Leader Day School is open to adults leading Tiger, Wolf, Bear and Webelos dens who want songs, games, crafts and ceremonies at their fingertips. Day School is also open to the parents of future Tiger Cubs who know that Eagle Scouts grow from active, involved Tiger Cubs. It is also open to Cubmaster and Pack Committee members who want to know how to put together a year long program and monthly pack meetings that will hold boys interest and have PIZZAZZ!

Cub Scout Leader Day School has been planned by Scouters with MANY years of experience in presenting Scouting programs to youth and adults in Boy Scouting

Why Ceremonies?

Ceremonies are one of the oldest forms of human communication. They pre-date history. Good Ceremonies are the ones that people remember. In fact, that should be the purpose of every ceremony: to fix something special in people's memories.

Ceremonies commemorate something important that the people involved should remember. You want the boy and his parents to remember, not just the ceremony, but what it all stands for. So learn how to put on memorable ceremonies for your Cub Scouts

How and Why We Use Crafts?

Crafts aid in the development of monthly themes in den and pack meetings.

Learn how to choose a project; Make a pattern; Make a sample; Teach step by step instructions; then display your creations at a Pack meeting.

Why Games?

Scouting is a game with a purpose. Boys develop through game playing; Boys learn through games; and have FUN.

Games are important to accomplish Scouting objectives; educational benefits; Physical benefits; Teaching self-confidence; and games are an Outlet for excess boy energy.

Why Songs?

Remember the great times singing those songs in school or that song that rumbled the rafters at church? The feeling after these songs really lifted the spirits. Singing is fun! Songs can create enthusiasm or set a mood.

To be a successful song leader, all that is required are a few tips about how to lead songs. .

Voice? Don't worry about it! A voice like that of a crooner or an operatic star is not necessary.

Never apologize. It's easy and it's fun to lead songs.

How are we set up?

How are we set-up? Please register for the most appropriate Cub Scout Level for your position. The course has been divided into different age-related activities (Ceremonies, Crafts, Games, and Songs.) for each Cub Scout Level. Come and learn lots of new and time-tested ideas for your Den and Pack meetings.

Role model

Cub scout-aged boys are strongly influenced by the adults (parents, teachers, Scout leaders) in their lives. Therefore, one of your most important jobs as an adult Cub Scout leader is to be an excellent role model and Akela for your scouts. So come to this training course and learn how to put on a great program for them. Let them see you doing your best, planning ahead, being a good team member, and especially having fun while doing all this. Show them the kind of person you would like them to grow up into.
