

Rental prices for 2007 Scintillant studio

Setting up and running a shop can be costly and time consuming. It is particularly difficult for people that are hobbyists or are starting their own businesses. Part of what we provide to the metalworking community is our affordable Bench and Key rentals. Here is a breakdown of the options for rentals at Scintillant Studio.

Room A

This room is intended to be used by full time professional jewelry makers that are either not ready to move into a studio of their own or enjoy the sense of community that Scintillant provides. The limited number of renters in this room gives students more room to spread out but demands a higher price.

3 benches available

$300 per bench

No Bench shares allowed

Room B

This room is best for professional jewelry makers and hobbyists alike. There is a bit more room and storage space than room C

6 benches available

$230 per bench

$150 shared bench

Room C

This room is the most affordable for those on a fixed budget. It is a good alternative to a key position particularly when shared.. One of the major advantages to these benches is that they allow for more storage of tools projects and materials than key positions. Another advantage is when no class is in session these bench people can use the student benches and move to their bench during class times.

$160 per bench

$120 shared bench

Key rentals

The Key rentals are intended to be used by students interested in getting more open studio time and people interested in starting professional work and can work around the class schedule. The key positions are NOT able to work during ANY of the scheduled classes or weekend workshops. Key positions come with a locker to store projects in.

One months rent deposit is required on all key and bench rentals. All benches and keys include all utilities, Gas for torches (and at least one torch per room) pickle. Access to all studio equipment. (See The rules list for detailed guidelines.)
